A REMARKABLE KENTUCKY LAWSUIT DE-CIDED. - Breckinridge's Administrators and Heirs vs. Lee's and Others. - This case - in the length of time of its continuance, the character of the contestants, the counsel engaged, and the circumstances surrounding it-is, perhaps the most remarkable in the history of Kentucky jurisprudence. With its merits we have nothing to do. In 1795 John Breckinridge and George Nicholas, perhaps the two ablest and most distinguished men in Kentucky of their day, and from whom have descended men of, perhaps, equal intellect, made a contract with John Lee, an early and wealthy settler, for the purchase of Blackwell's claim for over 19,000 acres of land in what is now Bath county. Breckinridge and Nicholas, and perhaps others, formed the original Iron Works com-Beall and Nicholas sold to Thomas Dye Owings, taking a mortgage.

Lee's executors made Breckinridge's estate pay the first purchase money, and Breckinridge's heirs sued to recover from Beall's, Nicholas's and Owings' estates the money thus paid. This suit was commenced in 1811, and Dealers everywhere. Price $1.25 per bottle: has been constantly on docket ever since. It was originally commenced in the Federal Court, in which case the celebrated Colonel John Allen was one of the counsel. Numerous and conflicting claims were involved in this suit. The claims of Luke Tierman, Elliot, Meredith, Smith and others, all finally purchased by Robert Wickliffe, Sr., who became interested, and to whose skill, vigor and unyielding determination may be principally assigned the duration of the long struggle. The most remarkable men of Kentucky, with this case, either as contestants, lawyers, judges, witnesses, &c. Out of this suit, in part, grew the famous personal controversy between Robert Wickliffe, Sr., and Rev. Dr. Robert J. Breckinridge -that war of giants. We understand that the Court of Appeals decided substantially in $20,000 and $30,000. - Lexington Observer.

A GOOD THING. - James H. Harris, a colshowed in the Holdenite meeting on yesterday that he was quite a match for any of his associates. At one time, we learn, on calling over the term colored against the names of the colclair, better known as the "fighting parson," arose, and moved that the term colored be expunged, as not respectful to the colored delegation. James H. Harris arose and said he did not see any good reason for the proposition. The record was literally true. God had made them colored men, and he was not ashamed of anything that God had done. He was not Sentincl.

GARIBALDI, says a Florence letter of March 13th, continues his progress. He was at Advanguardia, the new organ of the Left, will bardly increase his prestige. It appears that on arriving at the station a child was presented to him by its parents to be baptized. He accepted the office. "I baptize thee," he said, "in the name of God and of the legislator Jesus; may thou become an apostle of truth. and of the body; be worthy of the brave Chiassi whose name I give to thee; adieu!"
The crowd frantically applauded. (!) Garibaldi was much affected by the enthusiastic reception he met with at Bologna.

SMALL FARMS AND FRUIT.-A New York farmer makes the following suggestions in regard to small farms: In many cases where ing small fruits while his orchard is growing. A neighbor is making more out of the Doolittle raspberries, by selling fruits and plantsboth grown on the same land-from a few acres, than most men make on one hundred acres by common farming. These and other small fruits may be grown between the rows of thus requiring less help at any one time, while | formation. the business can be better managed and con-

An interesting case was tried before the New York Circuit Court for the town of Danville last week. It was a suit brought by Major Wm. T. Sutherlin against the town of Danville.—
The Danville Times says it involved a claim of HOOP $14,000, due on bonds sold in market, and which Mr. Sutherlin bought. It seems the largest factories in the country, a full line of town gave certificates of indebtedness, or sold him its notes, payable ten or twenty years hence—the interest payable semi-annually—for which Sutherlin gave a much larger amount in Confederate money than the certificates in Confederate money than the certificates called for. The town plead usury in defence. Judge Wingfield, after lengthy and able arguments of counsel pro and con., decided that there was no usury, and ordered a verdict for the plaintiff.

The treasurer of the United States is sometimes in receipt of sums of one, two, and three cent coins of the base metallic compound now in circulation, which are sent to him for redemption. There is no provision of law or otherwise for the redemption of base metal coin of those denominations. The act approved May 16th, 1866, makes it lawful for the treasurer and assistant treasurers to redeem the ive-cent coin authorized by that act when presented in sums of not less than $100, but there
